WOMEN EXPECTED TO DOUBLE VOTE

Estimated That Between 11,000 and 12,000 Votes Will be Cast in Rush County

OLD PRECINCTS TO BE USED

Reasonably Certain Additional Voting Places Will Not be Required—Clerks Are Doubled

There is prospect of between eleven and twelve thousand votes being cast in Rush county at the election November 2, since women are practically assured of the ballot.

It is reasonably certain that the old precincts will be used because emergency legislation enacted by the special session of the legislature doubles the number of election booths and the number of clerks in each precinct so that twice as many voters can vote as formerly.

The combined vote for the four candidates for president on the ballot at the last general election in 1916, in Rush county, was 5,720, which indicates, if the women take an active interest in politics, that the vote this fall will be between eleven and twelve thousand.

The combined vote for secretary of state at the election in 1918 was 5,002 in Rush county, but it is reasonable to assume that the vote will be larger this year because of the increased interest, due to the fact that a president will be elected.

There are generally about six thousand voters polled by the two parties, but a small percent always fails to go to the polls. The total was cut down in 1918 because many soldiers had not yet returned from overseas and could not be reached so they could vote by mail.

Several months ago the county commissioners increased the number of precincts to fifty-nine, believing that it would be necessary to accommodate the women at the spring primary, but Indiana women were not allowed to vote in the primary and it was not necessary to use the new precinct boundaries. It would have been impractical to use the original thirty-one precincts in the general election, with women voting for all candidates, if the emergency legislation had not been passed.

The expense of the election will be increased but not doubled, in the opinion of many politicians who have studied the situation. It is pointed out that the only extra expense will be the pay of the two extra clerks in each precinct and the probable extra pay for election officials who will have to spend more time in tabulating the vote of their precinct. It is also believed that the returns will be much slower coming in because of the increased vote.

Women in Indiana were entitled to vote for president and vice-president in the coming election regardless of the action on the federal constitution. This right was given them by the Indiana legislature in 1919. It was the confident belief of most people that the thirty-sixth state necessary for nation-wide suffrage would ratify the amendment within a short time, and it was upon this theory that political organization in Rush county and in the state at large were arranging for the election.

The poll of voters in both parties has been practically completed. The names of women over twenty-one years of age were listed as well as the names of male voters. There is much speculation as to the number of women voters in this county. It is not believed that they number more than the male voters.

While the great percentage of women in this county will be quick to exercise their newly acquired privileges it is known that some will not cast their ballot in the November election. The number not voting is purely a matter of guess at this time, although an accurate count can be made after October 4 when the precinct registration boards will hold their last session. Only those who register are entitled to vote in the November election and it is believed that the majority of women who register will vote.

FARMERS ELEVATOR ISSOLD

Hungate Elevator Co., Co-operative Organization, The Purchaser

Theodore H. Reed and son have sold their elevator at Farmers Station to the Hungate Elevator company, a co-operative organization, which is already maintaining elevators at Gwynneville and Fountain-town. Stock in the company was sold among the farmers living in the vicinity of Farmers Station who are patrons of the elevator. It is said that the consideration was $5,000.

Reed and son still own and operate elevators at Rushville, Homer and Sexton.

PRESTOL GRUBBS IS ARRESTED BY SHERIFF

Father of Otis Grubbs, Who Recently Was Released on Bond, Accused of Same Offense

GRAND LARCENY IS CHARGED

Sheriff Jones arrived from Indianapolis at one o'clock this afternoon with Prestol Grubbs, who was placed in jail on a charge of grand larceny, the specific charge being preferred by A. N. Harold, who alleges that he was implicated in the theft of some furnishings belonging to the Windsor Hotel building, at the corner of Second and Morgan streets.

A few days ago Otis Grubbs, son of the man arrested today, was brought here on a similar charge, but has since been released on a cash bond supplied in the sum of $500. The son accompanied his father here today, and it was expected that he would also provide bond.

A few weeks ago Grubbs and his son were engaged in redecorating the interior of the building, and it is said that Harold missed furnishings amounting to about $60, which he alleged was taken by the decorators. According to a story told by the son a few days ago, he said that nothing was taken only what was agreed upon, in payment for the work which they did, asserting that they were unable to collect any money for their labor.

The cases will come up for trial in the September term of court.

TENT TO BE USED AT CHURCH DEDICATION

One Seating 1,000 Persons Will be Erected to Accommodate Little Flatrock Crowd

GEORGE L. SNIVELY ARRIVES

A tent seating 1,000 persons will be provided at the dedication of the Little Flatrock Christian church Sunday, it was announced today, because it is not believed that the new church will accommodate the crowds which are expected.

The dedication will be in charge of the Rev. George L. Snively of Lewiston, Illinois, who devotes all of his time to dedicating new churches of the Christian denomination.

"The church was not built for dedication crowds," said the Rev. Mr. Lewiston, who has arrived for the services, "and a tent will be erected to take care of the large attendance."

It is probable that all of the services during the day will be held in the tent, but that in the evening the meeting will take place in the new church, which is just being completed this week at a cost of $35,000 including the furnishings. A basket dinner will be served at noon.

The Rev. Mr. Snively has been engaged in dedicating church for fourteen years and only two Sundays during that time has he been at home. His last pastorate was at Jacksonville, Ill. The Rev. Mr. Snively was the first secretary of the National Benevolent association of the denomination and for two years was superintendent of the Christian Publishing company at St. Louis.

BLAMES SENATE FOR CONDITIONS

Gov. Cox, in First Stump Speech in Indiana, Holds G. O. P. "Oligarchy" Responsible

RATIFICATION AS CURE ALL

Democratic Nominee Says Normal Conditions Will Return When Treaty is Accepted

(By United Press.)

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 19.—"The Republican oligarchy of the senate is directly responsible for the unsettled condition through the country," Governor Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, charged here today in his first stump speech in Indiana.

Speaking to a meeting held in the public square, he again directed his fire at the reactionary republican leaders, asserting that they have prevented the lower living costs and blocked tax reduction in the hope of placing the blame on the Democrats.

"Normal conditions will return with the ratification of the peace treaty," he said, adding that the Democratic plan is to enter the work of the nation with the least possible delay after March 1, 1921.

The question of the league became the issue in this campaign for the very reason that our safety and our prosperity depends on it, he declared.

Cox charged that while progressive democracy has taken a positive position with reference to every vital question, reactionary republican leaders are hypocritical.

"If they would follow their own footsteps backward, and they are used to moving in that direction, they would not accomplish anything. They would find every condition they have inveighed against of their own creation," he continued.

"War taxes which should have been modified or retained when the war was over, were not touched and the republican oligarchy in the senate is responsible.

Business men in this state who called on Senator Penrose came back home firm in the opinion that the senate would take no action and that it was impelled by desire to continue the Burleson taxation up until 1920 under the theory that the people would blame the executive rather than the congress."

POLES CONTINUE THEIR SUCCESSES

Press Newly Won Advantages Over The Russian Bolsheviks in a Race Against Time

ARE USING ALL RESERVES

(By United Press.)

Moscow, August 19.—"Armistice negotiations between Polish and Russian representatives were not resumed at Minsk yesterday," the official Bolshevik communique stated today.

The responsibility for failing to resume the conversations rested with the Poles, the communique said.

London, Aug. 19.—The Poles were reported today to be desperately pushing their newly won advantages over the Russians in a race against time.

The Poles again continued their successes along the nearly 500 mile battle front, which apparently establishes the fact that President Pilsudski and General Weygand have employed practically all the reserves while the Bolshevik reserves are virtually untouched.

In view of this situation, it is believed that the Polish victories must become even more pronounced within the next few days or the Reds will again assume the offensive.

It was also announced that women troopers are engaged in the fight.

ALLEGED LOBBY WILL BE PROBED

Criminal Court Judge at Nashville Orders Investigation of Charges Made in Legislature

NO MOVE TO RECONSIDER

Rep. H. T. Burn, Whose Vote Swung Ratification, Replies to Intimation of Bribery

(By United Press.)

Nashville, Tennessee, Aug. 19.—Judge Debow of the criminal court today asked the grand jury to investigate alleged lobbying in connection with consideration of the suffrage amendment by the legislature.

The judge in his message to the grand jury said it had been reported by suffrage supporters that a "force of corruption" was operating. No names were mentioned.

A Nashville newspaper today published affidavits of two men who alleged efforts were made to bribe Representative Burn to vote for the suffrage resolution on the final roll call. At the same time other men were trying to prove that the statement was absolutely false.

The house of representatives adjourned until ten o'clock tomorrow morning without reconsidering the suffrage amendment.

It is expected an attempt will be made to reopen the question tomorrow.

When the house went into session Representative Harry T. Burn, read a statement explaining his vote on suffrage.

Burn voted for suffrage on the final roll call after twice voting to table the resolution of ratification. His vote gave the victory.

He said he wanted to reply to "veiled intimations and accusations against him." "I believe in full suffrage as a right," he told the house.

"I know that a mother's advice is always safe for boys to follow and my mother wanted me to vote for ratification."

He also declared that he wanted honor for his party and for Eastern Tennessee, the purest Anglo-Saxon district in the world.

REED FARM SELLS FOR $49,468 AT AUCTION

Average of $149 an Acre is Paid by Jasper D. Case of This City Wednesday

TO AUCTION HOME SATURDAY

Theodore Reed's farm of 332 acres, located two miles east of Rushville, sold at auction Wednesday for $49,468, an average of $149 an acre. Jasper D. Case of this city was the purchaser. The personal property on the farm brought $7,502.40, making the total sale amount to $56,970.40.

The farm was sold in quarters, one-fourth being bid off to Edwin Gartin for $151 an acre, another quarter to the same man for $139, another fourth to J. D. Case for $141 and the fourth quarter to Mr. Case for $137. This made the average for the whole farm $141.50. The whole 332 acres was then offered in a bunch and Mr. Gartin made the first bid of $142. Mr. Case made the first bid of $142. Mr. Case then raised him a dollar until Gartin stopped. Mr. Case bid $149 and the farm was knocked off to him. The terms of the sale provided that the farm would be sold in the way that it brought the most money.

Mr. Reed will also sell his home at 530 North Main street and his household goods at auction Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND THE MILROY ASSEMBLY

Wednesday Proves Banner Day When Neapolitan Band Gives Two Concerts—Closes Friday

RUSHVILLE PEOPLE PRESENT

Large crowds attended Milroy's free chautauqua Wednesday when the Neapolitan band gave two concerts, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. Many Rushville people were in attendance last night, among the visitors from here being the members of Homer Cole's orchestra.

The program for today consisted of a prelude by the Leiter Grand Opera company and a lecture, "The Invisible Frontier", by Capt. Stanley Nelson Dancey of the Canadian army, this afternoon, and a concert by the opera company tonight. The chautauqua will close tomorrow with a junior program and a concert by Swiss singers and players in the afternoon, and a concert and lecture at night by J. Adam Bede on the subject, "What's Wrong With the World".

Much favorable comment has been heard on Milroy giving a free chautauqua. Milroy citizens pledged $1,250 at the close of the chautauqua last year to defray the expenses of the assembly this year and indications are that there will be no deficit. The programs are being given in a tent.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lawhorn returned this morning to their home in Cincinnati, after visiting Mrs. Lawhorn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Hankins of West Second street.

RUSH MAY LEAVE SIXTH DISTRICT

Politicians Figure on Possibility of Regrouping of Congressional Units

POPULATION IS THE BASIS.

Indiana May Lose Seat in House Which Would Reduce Number of Districts to 12

That Rush county may not remain in the sixth congressional district is a possibility on which politicians here have been figuring.

The question has arisen in the minds of many Rush county citizens who interest themselves in a rather special way in politics. It originates from the very general assumption that there will have to be a recasting of the congressional districts of the state when the complete reports on the 1920 census are in.

It is estimated that the total population of the forty-eight states will be in the neighborhood of 102,742,360 persons. If the house of representatives is to be kept at its present strength of 435 members, then Indiana will be entitled to twelve members, one less than it has now.

This estimate is made on the theory that the population of the United States will show an increase of approximately 10 percent, which would mean assuming that the membership of the house is kept at 435, that each state would be entitled to one member of the house for each 236,189 population. Indiana's population for 1920 is 2,930,544 according to the census bureau announcement last Saturday so that Indiana, under this rule, probably would lose a seat in the house.

The population by districts is as follows: First district, 197,774; Second district, 203,494; Third district, 196,656; Fourth district, 179,702; Fifth district, 214,097; Sixth district, 183,172; Seventh district, 350,000; Eighth district, 212,115; Ninth district, 199,279; Tenth district, 288,931; Eleventh district, 203,925; Twelfth district, 207,309; Thirteenth district, 283,105.

From the foregoing figures, it is evident that if 236,189 is to constitute the population of a congressional unit changes will have to be made, by way of additions of territory, in the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh and Twelfth districts. The Seventh, Tenth and Thirteenth districts probably will be found to be the only ones to have a surplus of population.

The figures reveal that the Sixth district is approximately 53,017 short of the number of inhabitants expected to be apportioned for a congressional unit. To bring it up to retain the nine counties now comprising it, Henry, Hancock, Wayne, Union, Fayette, Rush, Shelby, Decatur and Franklin, but would have to attach one or two more. Where would these counties come from? It is easy to see that once the work of recasting a district began, the effect would be to disarrange one or all adjoining districts, with the result that there would be such a shifting around in all of them as to cause them to lose their present outlines practically completely. This would almost surely result should it become necessary to reduce Indiana's representation in the house of representatives from thirteen members to twelve.

Movies and the Eyes

There is no evidence to prove that the "movies" are imperiling the sight of the nation. Careful investigation leads to the opposite conclusion.

Recent improvements and greater care in operating the projecting machines have almost entirely eliminated the mechanical defects, so you may be quite certain that when your eyes trouble you while viewing moving pictures, it is due, not to the pictures, but to defective eyes which call for optometry's aid.

The person with normal eyes will not suffer at picture shows unless visited to excess. At the very first indication of eye trouble call and let us make a careful, scientific examination of your eyes.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Your druggist has been appointed agent for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

Natural Gas a Luxury

Hearings which have been conducted whenever local gas companies have petitioned the state public service commission for an increase in rates, have developed the fact that that few people realize that natural gas is a luxury. They protest about paying more for something which very few communities have, when the companies offering natural gas have taken precautions and have worked the Rush county field carefully, not realizing that most cities which have gas at all are paying much more than the local rates and are getting artificial gas.

There is little doubt but that the local field would have been exhausted but for the fact that the companies here have protected it. They have taken care of their wells and with the exception of the war period, have been constantly digging new wells to take the place of those which give out.

Galena, Illinois is a very striking example of what continual persecution of the gas companies will do. Galena aroused such a whirlwind that it finally blew out the gas.

Since Ulysses S. Grant, once the town tanner, gave up his private practice to take up that little task of preserving the Union, as related in all school histories, nothing of such nation-wide interest has emanated from this river city of northwestern Illinois.

Women, as the chief sufferers, are keeping their old gas stoves ready for the joyous moment when the gas is miraculously restored. A presidential candidate who could guarantee return of the old reliable gas, could carry Galena unanimously, regardless of his stand on suffrage, prohibition or the League of Nations. The women, who have had to go back to the coal range or the oil stoves are in rebellion. That ever-ready and always reliable gas flame that will broil a 1920 steak just to the right nicety, or turn out a pie that will smother Friend Husband's grouch in its very lusciousness, is worth the price, they feel, and home without it has a big, big, void.

How Galena stepped on the gas until it hurt is a long story. The year Grant finished the job under the old apple tree the possession in Galena of a gas-illuminated house was greater evidence of a regular bank balance than the ownership of a gas propelled limousine is today. Gas retailed then at $5 a thousand cubic feet.

As gas manufacture became more scientific and economical, the gas company voluntarily reduced the rate until in 1912 Galena business houses and users of gas ranges paid only $1.50 a thousand, while light consumers got off with a charge of $1.65. In 1914 an explosion necessitated rebuilding much of the plant at great expense. Then came the world war—prices for coal, coke and oil soared and shipments became increasingly difficult to obtain. The Illinois Public Utilities Commission reduced the gas rate to $1.40 net for the first thousand cubic feet, the rate ranging downward to $1.20 a thousand to large consumers. The prices for essential gas-making material increased to the point where the operators had to seek relief. The Utilities Commission then raised the rate to $1.65.

But this new rate failed to make gas selling a paying proposition, and the plant went into the hands of a receiver. Experts called in by the receivers reported a big deficit. Then Galena's citizens saw the light they felt they soon weren't going to see and petitioned the Utilities Commission to do anything even to raising the rates—if they only could be assured of gas. But the Commission denied their plea and the plant, the second oldest in the state, was forced to shut down.

Some men are always worrying over the brevity of women's dresses. If they would make a practice of looking at faces they would have less to complain of elsewhere. We only see where we look.

Politics still make strange bedfellows. Picture, if you can, the Indianapolis News and Tom Taggart in fond embrace.

If your neighbor calls you a fool, don't be too hasty about punching him. He may have blundered onto the truth.

Digest of New Laws Passed
By Special State Legislature

12. General Election Law—County commissioners are authorized to change the precincts in their county not later than Aug. 8, 1920, to take care of the increased number of voters. The number of voters in ballot precincts is fixed at 500, in voting machine precincts at 1000, and where both methods are used in the same precinct at 1500. Authority is given to use both voting machine and ballots in the same precinct. If women are not fully enfranchised by the November election and if both ballots and machines are used, the women will vote by ballot and the men on machines. If the number of voters in any precinct is large, two assistant poll clerks may be appointed. Where only ballots are used the clerks and assistant clerks perform the same duties, where ballots and machines are used the regular clerks attend to the machines and the assistants to the ballots. As many as 6 persons may be in the polling place at one time where assistant clerks are appointed. The compensation of election officials is as follows: Judge, clerks and assistant clerks, $9; sheriffs, $6; inspectors, $12. Absent voters may mark their ballots with pen and ink or a lead pencil of any color.

ALBANIA WANTS TO GET OLIVES FROM AMERICA

Country Never Dreamed of Eating
Green Olives Until Red Cross
Workers Imported Few Cases

GREEN FRUIT IS PREFERRED

Tirana Albania, (By Mail)—Albania, where every hillside is thick with olives, wants to import its olives from America. The demand for the American product has grown up since the Americans reached the country and introduced, for the first time, the bottled green olive as a table delicacy.

The Albanian never dreamed of preserving and eating green olives until Red Cross workers imported a few cases of the fruit, as prepared in America, for their personal consumption and invited their native friends to taste the unfamiliar dainties. Up to that time the people of the country picked their olives only when they were ripe and black and preserved them in strong brine, which robbed them of all their piquant flavor. The fruit was sold by weight from open vats, which stand beside the doorways of the small shopkeepers, collecting all the dust raised by passing traffic in the grimy streets.

Those Albanians who have been favored with a taste of the plump green olives imported from the United States have unanimously declared that the brine-soaked product of their own country cannot compare with the American fruit and that the Albanian market is wide open for green olives preserved by modern methods.

AFTER SCHOOL

By Strickland Gillilan

When home from school long day he drifts

And to my gaze his fresh face lifts,
I read the tale of all the joys
And sorrows that are every boy's—
I knew them once. I feel them yet,
Through later living's deeper fret,
But still I hold him close, and say,
"Son, tell me all about your day."

He tells me—whimpering o'er each grief,
And laughing next in swift relief:
The big, bad boy who hid his hat;
The girl who slipped from where she sat,
To meet with Teacher's well-earned frown;

And how the littlest boy fell down!
I list—not that I do not know,
But only that I love him so.

When, at life's troublous school day's close,
Each world-worn pupil homeward goes,
Straight to the Father's eyes we'll raise
Our own, prepared for blame or praise.

He'll slip an arm around, and say:
"Child, tell be all about your day."
Not that Our Father does not know,
But only that He loves us so.

The above poem was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Jess Pugh by Mr. Gillilan, who is a close friend of Mr. Pugh, when their son Richard died recently at Winona Lake.

DALLAS CHEAPEST LIVING CITY IN U. S.

Today it is Fighting Most Successful Battle Against Upward Trend of Prices, Statistics Reveal

NEW HAVEN HIGHEST CITY

Table Shows Details of Research and Actual Prices Obtained by United Press

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug. 18.—Go Dallasward, young man—if you are seeking surcease from the High Cost of Living. For Dallas, Texas, today is fighting the most successful battle against upward trend of prices. It is the cheapest living city in the United States, out of twenty-six in which the United Press obtained figures on common commodities of living.

And strange to say, the investigation showed New York is not the highest priced town in the country as usually painted by visitors and natives themselves. It does run a close second to the "honor," however but New Haven wins first place.

On August 1 last the United Press asked grocers, housewives, ice dealer, coal dealers, dairymen, etc., in twenty-six cities of the United States and Canada for retail price quotations for that day on fourteen commodities that go largely to make up a day's living. The articles quoted were as follows: sugar, flour, butter, eggs, milk, potatoes, roast beef, ham, veal, sirloin, pork chops, lamb, ice and coal.

To arrive at a basis for comparison, so that it could be determined which is the costliest city to live in, the prices per pound, dozen, or ton, as the case may be, were totalled for each city and that total used as the key to the city's costliness or cheapness.

The accompanying table gives the details of the research and shows the actual prices obtained by the United Press for the articles mentioned. The total cost for the fourteen commodities for Dallas was $15.97, while for New Haven, Conn., it was $34.08, or more than twice the cost for the Texas city. The average of all the cities, or for the United States, was $21.02.

Chicago, second city of the country in population stands fourth from last place with a total of $18.82. Philadelphia, third city, has a total of $19.66, while Boston, another eastern metropolis, has $28.89 and ranks next after New York in expensiveness. Los Angeles and Washington, both of which made large gains in the 1920 census, take fourth and fifth places, and the commodities would cost there $27.66 and $25.32 respectively.

Near the bottom of the list, there are, besides Chicago, such cities as Buffalo, Pittsburg, and Columbus, where reports as gathered by the United Press show the articles quoted cost $19.44, $19.13 and $18.68.

The average for the United States was as expected, stands near the middle of the list, but there are fifteen cities where cost are above the average, while only eleven boast lower price scales.

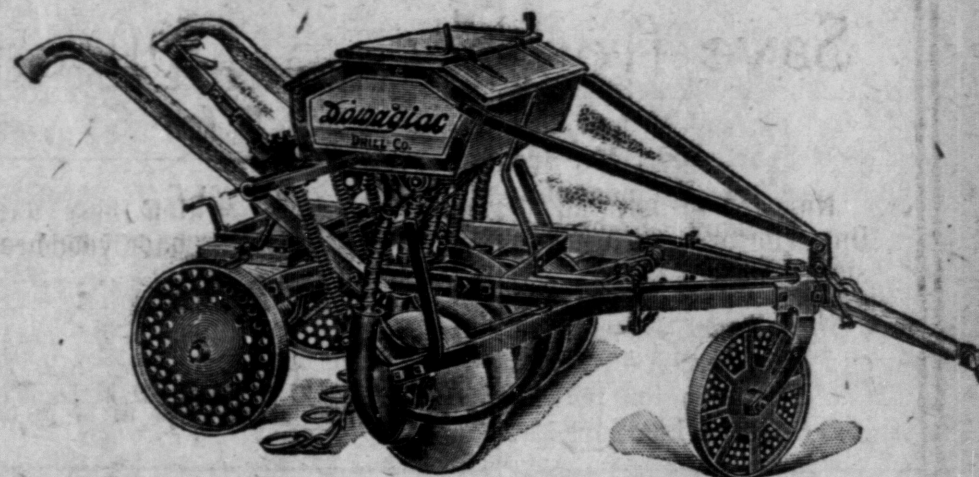

Milwaukee, Portland, Ore., Harrisburg Pa., Montreal and Oklahoma City occupy the second five positions after Washington. Following immediately after them are to be found Indianapolis, St. Paul, Lincoln Neb., New Orleans and San Antonio, Texas. The prices for San Antonio, which rank above Dallas in point of population, total $21.39, or $5.42 higher than the quotations for Dallas.

Other cities below the average for the country are St. Louis, Cleveland, Denver, Philadelphia and Springfield, Ills. Among these cities the prices vary between $19.48 and $20.88, the totals for Springfield and St. Louis, which, it happens, lie only two and a half hours apart.

Efforts were made to make comparisons as to the cost of rent, clothing, shoes, etc. Reports were gathered, but on compiling the quotations, it was found they varied so materially that no fair comparison was possible. In some cities, for instance certain grades of houses of apartments would be classed as tenements, while in another city similar buildings were listed differently.

BOLT RESTORES HEALTH

Lightning Hits Woman and She Recovers From Invalid Condition

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 19.—After being an invalid for several months, Mrs. J. M. Miller, wife of a prominent merchant at Seminary, Miss., has been almost completely restored to health as a result of being struck by a bolt of lightning.

While alone in her room at a summer resort, a violent electrical storm came up, and a bolt of lightning struck Mrs. Miller's feet, tearing off her shoes, and rendering her unconscious. Although the white canvass shoes were torn to pieces, not even a burn could be found on Mrs. Miller's stockings.

DR. MARTIN FIRST OWNER.

In the announcement of the purchase of the Moffett property, Corner of Perkins and Third streets, last night, it was stated that Dr. Evans first owned the house and lot. It should have been that Dr. Martin was the first owner and he sold it to Dr. John Moffett. The property was bought by Dr. F. H. Green of Will Moffett, only heir of Dr. Moffett.

"The Flame of Hellgate"—Mystic

Just as the police of New York City long had maintained a "dead line" south of which no "crook" is allowed to go, so in "The Flame of Hellgate," in which Beatriz Michelen will be seen at the Mystic Friday, a bold outlaw queen establishes a "Dead Line" above which none of the cattle king's men can come.

Her father has been murdered by the cattle king's forces, and she has decided that if there is to be any such royalty in America as cattle "kings," she will "queen it" a little herself. So she and her men establish a large sign on the side of the mountain saying: "No Tresspassing—The Dead Line." Beside this sign stands a guard day and night. So carefully does he watch, and so skillfully do the followers of the outlaw queen fight that the cattle king is worried.

The sheriff who has obtained his office through the influence of the cattle king and who, in turn, is supposed to gratify every whim of the "king" decides that he will go up single-handed and capture the outlaw chief, and his band. He gets as far as "The Dead Line." There an unusual fate befalls him and he is sent back to the village on his horse tied hand and foot.

Garden Beauty Most Anyone Can Afford

Look about as you walk or drive through a residential district and note the attractive places. It isn't the "finest" homes by any means that catch your eye. More often it is the well kept yard, the shrubbery, the trimmed trees and flower beds.

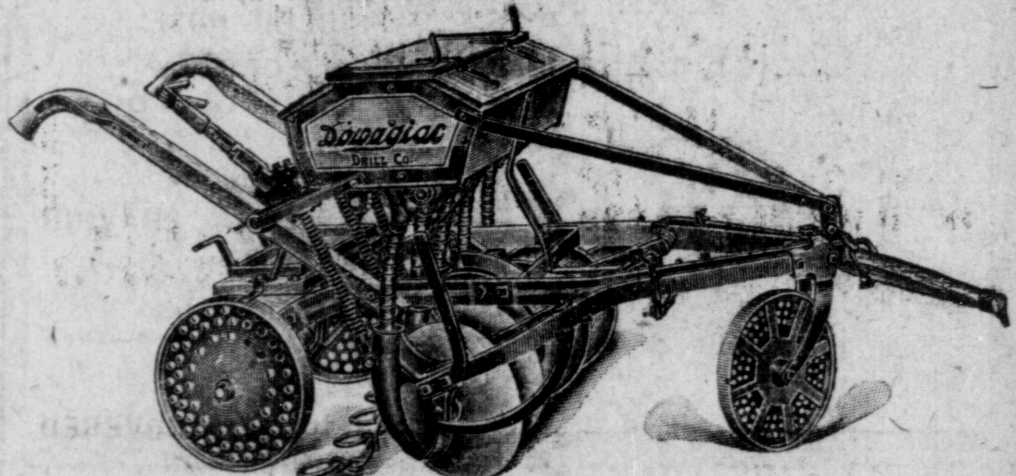

And then when you see in combination with these, a neat fence, an arbor, a pergola and a bird house—you exclaim: "What a picture."

The wonder of it is that more folks don't have these tasty little garden features. There's nothing cooler and better looking. And the cost! You'll be surprised how reasonable it is.

We'll take just as much interest in supplying you with the lumber for these little improvements as if you were buying materials for a house. We can make some interesting suggestions.

WOMAN'S LEADER IS CONGRATULATED

Senator Curtis, Representative Clark and Others Wire Messages to Mrs. Alice Paul

GLAD FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Republicans And Democrats Are Jubilant Over Victory in Woman's Favor, Messages Declare

Washington, Aug. 19.—Congratulations on the final suffrage victory are pouring in to Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's Party. Some of the statements follow: Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip, in a statement to Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's Party, said:

"I wish to congratulate you and the women you have so valiantly led on the triumph of the suffrage cause today. I want also to congratulate the country on the accession to the electorate of millions of women who have much to give to the political development of their country."

Representative Champ Clark, former speaker of the House of Representatives:

"Today marks the triumphant end of the struggle for a cause which has always had right and justice on its side. You are to be congratulated on the victory of your courageous struggle."

"The women who have tirelessly kept up the fight in face of repeated discouragements, of rebuffs, and even of persecution, deserve the highest credit. The whole country rejoices in their victory and in the triumph of a great cause."

Representative Mondell, Majority Floor Leader.

"Let me congratulate you as a leader of the National Woman's Party, and through you the women of the country, on this triumphant ending of your long and difficult struggle for political equality. Republicans will always be proud of the fact that their party has stood on the side of justice and fair dealing in urging the enfranchisement of American women. We welcome our newly enfranchised citizens to their rightful share in the government of the country."

Attorney General Palmer: "Political democracy has become today a real fact in the United States through the victory of woman suffrage, and the women of the country are to be congratulated on the success of their long and strenuous fight. The country is proud of its newly enfranchised citizens and ashamed only of the length and difficulty of the struggle which they have had to wage to secure what was obviously their right."

The following states which already had full suffrage and the number of presidential electors follows: Wyoming, 3; Colorado, 6; South Dakota, 5; Kansas, 10; Washington, 7; Idaho, 4; Utah, 4; California, 13; Arizona, 3; Oregon, 5; New York, 45; Montana, 4; Nevada, 3; Michigan, 15; Oklahoma, 10. The following states had presidential suffrage for women: Ohio, 24; Nebraska, 8; Minnesota, 12; Illinois, 29; Rhode Island, 5; Wisconsin, 13; North Dakota, 5; Maine, 6; Indiana, 15; Missouri, 18; Iowa, 13; Tennessee, 12.

Arkansas, with 9 electors, and Texas, with 20, had primary suffrage laws for women.

The amendment, which, when proposed, was known as the Sixteenth, follows, the form being that adopted by Congress and ratified by thirty six states:

"Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two-thirds of the members of each house concurring therein) that the following article be proposed to the legislatures of the several states as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which when ratified by three-fourths of the said legislatures, shall be valid as part of said Constitution:

"Section 1.—The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

"Section 2.—The Congress shall have power by appropriate legislation to enforce the provisions of this act."

GOLF TOURNAMENT ON TWO COURSES

Amateur Golfers of U. S. Will Try Out Brand New Plan at National Tournament Sept. 16

ROUND CONSISTS OF 36 HOLES

Match Play to be Started Day Following Qualifying Round and to be Played on Engineers' Course

(By United Press.)

New York, August 19.—Amateur golfers of the United States will try out a brand new plan when they unlimber their mashies, etc., for this year's national tournament, September 16.

The tournament committee of the United States Golf Association last winter picked the Engineers' club course on Long Island for the championship, but so many entrants were anticipated that it soon was evident that there would be an awful jam in clearing away the qualifying round. The North Shore club solved the problem when it offered its course to serve also in the qualifying round. So the hundreds of golfers will take the jumps on two courses this year to qualify.

The qualifying round will consist of thirty-six holes, medal play. The entering list will be split into two sections, half of which will play the North Shore course and the other half the Engineer's course. Completing this eighteen holes the players will exchange courses at noon, playing the next eighteen holes on a brand new link.

Only thirty-two players will survive the qualifying round. In the recent past it has been customary for every player who tied at the thirty-second top score to start in the match play. This will not obtain this year. The tied players will play off the deadlock and pairings will be made for only thirty-two players.

Match play will be started the day following the qualifying round and all matches will be played on the Engineers' club course. Play will start Monday with the qualifying round. Finals will be played, thirty-six holes, the following Saturday.

Broad preparations are being made by the Engineers' Club to handle the big event. The course is a new one, but has been carefully tended until it now is one of the best in the country. Expert course builders have been busy on it all summer, installing new traps and building greens. A seed company has detailed an expert to watch the growth of turf. The course now is in wonderful condition.

WOMEN EXPECTED TO DOUBLE VOTE

Estimated That Between 11,000 and 12,000 Votes Will be Cast in Rush County

OLD PRECINCTS TO BE USED

Reasonably Certain Additional Voting Places Will Not be Required—Clerks Are Doubled

There is prospect of between eleven and twelve thousand votes being cast in Rush county at the election November 2, since women are practically assured of the ballot.

It is reasonably certain that the old precincts will be used because emergency legislation enacted by the special session of the legislature doubles the number of election booths and the number of clerks in each precinct so that twice as many voters can vote as formerly.

The combined vote for the four candidates for president on the ballot at the last general election in 1916, in Rush county, was 5,726, which indicates, if the women take an active interest in politics, that the vote this fall will be between eleven and twelve thousand.

The combined vote for secretary of state at the election in 1918 was 5,002 in Rush county, but it is reasonable to assume that the vote will be larger this year because of the increased interest, due to the fact that a president will be elected.

There are generally about six thousand voters polled by the two parties, but a small percent always fails to go to the polls. The total was cut down in 1918 because many soldiers had not yet returned from overseas and could not be reached so they could vote by mail.

Several months ago the county commissioners increased the number of precincts to fifty-nine, believing that it would be necessary to accommodate the women at the spring primary, but Indiana women were not allowed to vote in the primary and it was not necessary to use the new precinct boundaries. It would have been impractical to use the original thirty-one precincts in the general election, with women voting for all candidates, if the emergency legislation had not been passed.

The expense of the election will be increased but not doubled, in the opinion of many politicians who have studied the situation. It is pointed out that the only extra expense will be the pay of the two extra clerks in each precinct and the probable extra pay for election officials who will have to spend more time in tabulating the vote of their precinct. It is also believed that the returns will be much slower coming in because of the increased vote.

Women in Indiana were entitled to vote for president and vice-president in the coming election regardless of the action on the federal constitution. This right was given them by the Indiana legislature in 1919. It was the confident belief of most people that the thirty-sixth state necessary for nation-wide suffrage would ratify the amendment within a short time, and it was upon this theory that political organization in Rush county and in the state at large were arranging for the election.

The poll of voters in both parties has been practically completed. The names of women over twenty-one years of age were listed as well as the names of male voters. There is much speculation as to the number of women voters in this county. It is not believed that they number more than the male voters.

While the great percentage of women in this county will be quick to exercise their newly acquired privileges it is known that some will not cast their ballot in the November election. The number not voting is purely a matter of guess at this time, although an accurate count can be made after October 4 when the precinct registration boards will hold their last session. Only those who register are entitled to vote in the November election and it is believed that the majority of women who register will vote.

Reed and son have sold their elevator at Farmers Station to the Hungate Elevator company, a co-operative organization, which is already maintaining elevators at Gwynneville and Fountain-town. Reed and son still own and operate elevators at Rushville, Homer and Sexton.

PRESTOL GRUBBS IS ARRESTED BY SHERIFF

Father of Otis Grubbs, Who Recently Was Released on Bond, Accused of Same Offense

GRAND LARCENY IS CHARGED

Sheriff Jones arrived from Indianapolis at one o'clock this afternoon with Prestol Grubbs, who was placed in jail on a charge of grand larceny, the specific charge being preferred by A. N. Harold, who alleges that he was implicated in the theft of some furnishings belonging to the Windsor Hotel building, at the corner of Second and Morgan streets.

A few days ago Otis Grubbs, son of the man arrested today, was brought here on a similar charge, but has since been released on a cash bond supplied in the sum of $500. The son accompanied his father here today, and it was expected that he would also provide bond.

A few weeks ago Grubbs and his son were engaged in redecorating the interior of the building, and it is said that Harold missed furnishings amounting to about $60, which he alleged was taken by the decorators. According to a story told by the son a few days ago, he said that nothing was taken only what was agreed upon, in payment for the work which they did, asserting that they were unable to collect any money for their labor.

The cases will come up for trial in the September term of court.

TENT TO BE USED AT CHURCH DEDICATION

One Seating 1,000 Persons Will be Erected to Accommodate Little Flatrock Crowd

GEORGE L. SNIVELY ARRIVES

A tent seating 1,000 persons will be provided at the dedication of the Little Flatrock Christian church Sunday, it was announced today, because it is not believed that the new church will accommodate the crowds which are expected.

The dedication will be in charge of the Rev. George L. Snively of Lewiston, Illinois, who devotes all of his time to dedicating new churches of the Christian denomination.

"The church was not built for dedication crowds," said the Rev. Mr. Lewiston, who has arrived for the services, "and a tent will be erected to take care of the large attendance."

It is probable that all of the services during the day will be held in the tent, but that in the evening the meeting will take place in the new church, which is just being completed this week at a cost of $35,000 including the furnishings. A basket dinner will be served at noon.

The Rev. Mr. Snively has been engaged in dedicating church for fourteen years and only two Sundays during that time has he been at home. His last pastorate was at Jacksonville, Ill. The Rev. Mr. Snively was the first secretary of the National Benevolent association of the denomination and for two years was superintendent of the Christian Publishing company at St. Louis.

BLAMES SENATE FOR CONDITIONS

Gov. Cox, in First Stump Speech in Indiana, Holds G. O. P. "Oligarchy" Responsible

RATIFICATION AS CURE ALL

Democratic Nominee Says Normal Conditions Will Return When Treaty is Accepted

(By United Press.)
South Bend, Ind., Aug. 19.—"The Republican oligarchy of the senate is directly responsible for the unsettled condition through the country," Governor Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, charged here today in his first stump speech in Indiana.

Speaking to a meeting held in the public square, he again directed his fire at the reactionary republican leaders, asserting that they have prevented the lower living costs and blocked tax reduction in the hope of placing the blame on the Democrats.

"Normal conditions will return with the ratification of the peace treaty," he said, adding that the Democratic plan is to enter the work of the nation with the least possible delay after March 1, 1921.

The question of the league became the issue in this campaign for the very reason that our safety and our prosperity depends on it, he declared.

Cox charged that while progressive democracy has taken a positive position with reference to every vital question, reactionary republican leaders are hypocritical.

"If they would follow their own footsteps backward, and they are used to moving in that direction, they would not accomplish anything. They would find every condition they have inveighed against of their own creation," he continued.

"War taxes which should have been modified or retained when the war was over, were not touched and the republican oligarchy in the senate is responsible.

Business men in this state who called on Senator Penrose came back home firm in the opinion that the senate would take no action and that it was impelled by desire to continue the Burleson taxation up until 1920 under the theory that the people would blame the executive rather than the congress."

POLES CONTINUE THEIR SUCCESSES

Press Newly Won Advantages Over The Russian Bolsheviks in a Race Against Time

ARE USING ALL RESERVES

(By United Press.)
Moscow, August 19.—"Armistice negotiations between Polish and Russian representatives were not resumed at Minsk yesterday," the official Bolshevik communique stated today.

The responsibility for failing to resume the conversations rested with the Poles, the communique said.

London, Aug. 19.—The Poles were reported today to be desperately pushing their newly won advantages over the Russians in a race against time.

The Poles again continued their successes along the nearly 500 mile battle front, which apparently establishes the fact that President Pilsudski and General Weygan have employed practically all the reserves while the Bolshevik reserves are virtually untouched.

In view of this situation, it is believed that the Polish victories must become even more pronounced within the next few days or the Reds will again assume the offensive. It was also announced that women troopers are engaged in the fight.

ALLEGED LOBBY WILL BE PROBED

Criminal Court Judge at Nashville Orders Investigation of Charges Made in Legislature

NO MOVE TO RECONSIDER

Rep. H. T. Burn, Whose Vote Swung Ratification, Replies to Intimation of Bribery

(By United Press.)
Nashville, Tennessee, Aug. 19.—Judge Debow of the criminal court today asked the grand jury to investigate alleged lobbying in connection with consideration of the suffrage amendment by the legislature. The judge in his message to the grand jury said it had been reported by suffrage supporters that a "force of corruption" was operating. No names were mentioned.

A Nashville newspaper today published affidavits of two men, who alleged efforts were made to bribe Representative Burn to vote for the suffrage resolution on the final roll call. At the same time other men were trying to prove that the statement was absolutely false.

The house of representatives adjourned until ten o'clock tomorrow morning without reconsidering the suffrage amendment.

It is expected an attempt will be made to reopen the question tomorrow.

When the house went into session Representative Harry T. Burn, read a statement explaining his vote on suffrage.

Burn voted for suffrage on the final roll call after twice voting to table the resolution of ratification. His vote gave the victory.

He said he wanted to reply to "veiled intimations and accusations against him." "I believe in full suffrage as a right," he told the house.

"I know that a mother's advice is always safe for boys to follow and my mother wanted me to vote for ratification."

He also declared that he wanted honor for his party and for Eastern Tennessee, the purest Anglo-Saxon district in the world.

REED FARM SELLS FOR $49,468 AT AUCTION

Average of $149 an Acre is Paid by Jasper D. Case of This City Wednesday

TO AUCTION HOME SATURDAY

Theodore Reed's farm of 332 acres, located two miles east of Rushville, sold at auction Wednesday for $49,468, an average of $149 an acre. Jasper D. Case of this city was the purchaser. The personal property on the farm brought $7,502.40, making the total sale amount to $56,970.40.

The farm was sold in quarters, one-fourth being bid off to Edwin Gartin for $151 an acre, another quarter to the same man for $139, another fourth to J. D. Case for $141 and the fourth quarter to Mr. Case for $137. This made the average for the whole farm $141.50. The whole 332 acres was then offered in a bunch, and Mr. Gartin made the first bid of $142. Mr. Case made the first bid of $142. Mr. Case then raised him a dollar until Gartin stopped. Mr. Case bid $149 and the farm was knocked off to him. The terms of the sale provided that the farm would be sold in the way that it brought the most money.

Mr. Reed will also sell his home at 530 North Main street and his household goods at auction Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND THE MILROY ASSEMBLY

Wednesday Proves Banner Day When Neapolitan Band Gives Two Concerts—Closes Friday

RUSHVILLE PEOPLE PRESENT

Large crowds attended Milroy's free chautauqua Wednesday when the Neapolitan band gave two concerts, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. Many Rushville people were in attendance last night, among the visitors from here being the members of Homer Cole's orchestra.

The program for today consisted of a prelude by the Leiter Grand Opera company and a lecture, "The Invisible Frontier," by Capt. Stanley Nelson Dancy of the Canadian army, this afternoon, and a concert by the opera company tonight. The chautauqua will close tomorrow with a junior program and a concert by Swiss singers and players in the afternoon, and a concert and lecture at night by J. Adam Bede on the subject, "What's Wrong With the World."

Much favorable comment has been heard on Milroy giving a free chautauqua. Milroy citizens pledged $1,250 at the close of the chautauqua last year to defray the expenses of the assembly this year and indications are that there will be no deficit. The programs are being given in a tent.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lawhorn returned this morning to their home in Cincinnati, after visiting Mrs. Lawhorn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Hankins of West Second street.

RUSH MAY LEAVE SIXTH DISTRICT

Politicians Figure on Possibility of Regrouping of Congressional Units

POPULATION IS THE BASIS

Indiana May Lose Seat in House Which Would Reduce Number of Districts to 12

That Rush county may not remain in the sixth congressional district is a possibility on which politicians here have been figuring.

The question has arisen in the minds of many Rush county citizens who interest themselves in a rather special way in politics. It originates from the very general assumption that there will have to be a recasting of the congressional districts of the state when the complete reports on the 1920 census are in.

It is estimated that the total population of the forty-eight states will be in the neighborhood of 102,742,360 persons. If the house of representatives is to be kept at its present strength of 435 members, then Indiana will be entitled to twelve members, one less than it has now.

This estimate is made on the theory that the population of the United States will show an increase of approximately 10 percent, which would mean assuming that the membership of the house is kept at 435, that each state would be entitled to one member of the house for each 236,189 population. Indiana's population for 1920 is 2,930,544 according to the census bureau announcement last Saturday so that Indiana, under this rule, probably would lose a seat in the house.

The population by districts is as follows: First district, 197,774; Second district, 203,494; Third district, 196,656; Fourth district, 179,702; Fifth district, 214,097; Sixth district, 183,172; Seventh district, 350,000; Eighth district, 212,115; Ninth district, 199,279; Tenth district, 288,931; Eleventh district, 203,925; Twelfth district, 207,309; Thirteenth district, 283,105.

From the foregoing figures, it is evident that if 236,189 is to constitute the population of a congressional unit changes will have to be made, by way of additions or subtraction, in the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh and Twelfth districts. The Seventh, Tenth and Thirteenth districts probably will be found to be the only ones to have a surplus of population.

The figures reveal that the Sixth district is approximately 53,017 short of the number of inhabitants expected to be apportioned for a congressional unit. To bring it up to retain the nine counties now comprising it, Henry, Hancock, Wayne, Union, Fayette, Rush, Shelby, Decatur and Franklin, but would have to attach one or two more. Where would these counties come from? It is easy to see that once the work of recasting a district began, the effect would be to disarrange one or all adjoining districts, with the result that there would be such a shifting around in all of them as to cause them to lose their present outlines practically completely. This would almost surely result should it become necessary to reduce Indiana's representation in the house of representatives from thirteen members to twelve.

Movies and the Eyes

There is no evidence to prove that the "movies" are impairing the sight of the nation. Careful investigation leads to the opposite conclusion.

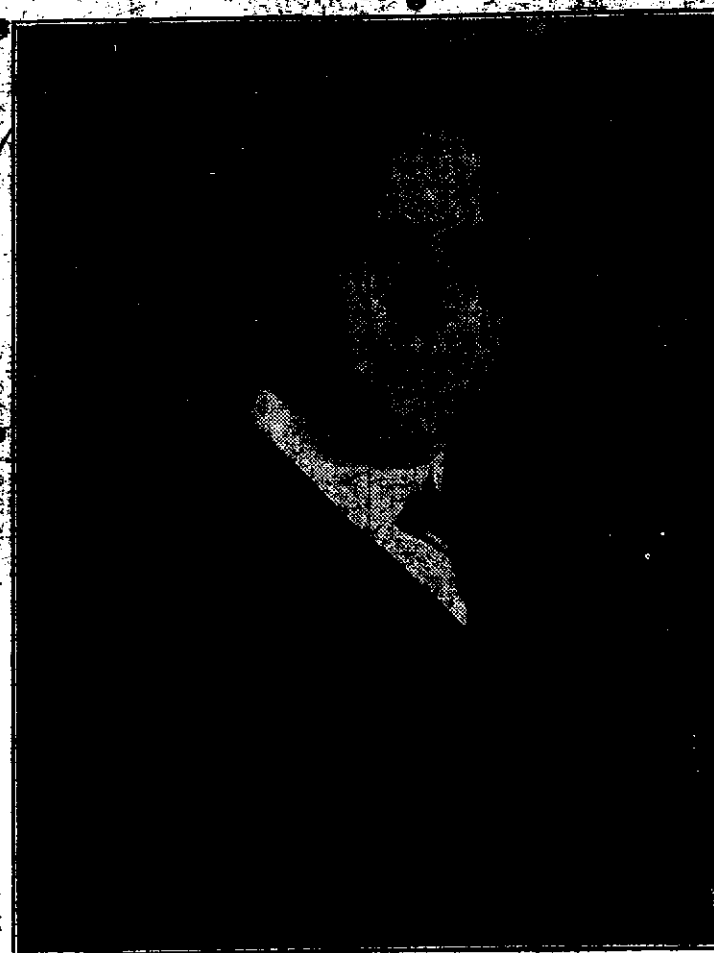

Recent improvements and greater care in operating the projecting machines have almost entirely eliminated the mechanical defects, so you may be quite certain that when your eyes trouble you while viewing moving pictures, it is due, not to the pictures, but to defective eyes which call for optometry's aid.

Says His Conversion Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of treatment, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a "prescription" that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Your druggist has been appointed agent for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.—Adv.

Natural Gas a Luxury

Hearings which have been conducted whenever local gas companies have petitioned the state public service commission for an increase in rates, have developed the fact that that few people realize that natural gas is a luxury. They protest about paying more for something which very few communities have, when the companies offering natural gas have taken precautions and have worked the Rush county field carefully, not realizing that most cities which have gas at all are paying much more than the local rates and are getting artificial gas.

There is little doubt but that the local field would have been exhausted but for the fact that the companies here have protected it. They have taken care of their wells and with the exception of the war period, have been constantly digging new wills to take the place of those which give out.

Galena, Illinois is a very striking example of what continual persecution of the gas companies will do. Galena aroused such a whirlwind that it finally blew out the gas.

Since Ulysses S. Grant, once the town tanner, gave up his private practice to take up that little task of preserving the Union, as related in all school histories, nothing of such nation-wide interest has emanated from this river city of northwestern Illinois.

Women, as the chief sufferers, are keeping their old gas stoves ready for the joyous moment when the gas is miraculously restored. A presidential candidate who could guarantee return of the old reliable gas, could carry Galena unanimously, regardless of his stand on suffrage, prohibition or the League of Nations. The women, who have had to go back to the coal range or the oil stoves are in rebellion. That ever-ready and always reliable gas flame that will broil a 1020° steak just to the right nicety, or turn out a pie that will smother Friend Husband's grouches in its very lusciousness, is worth the price, they feel, and home without it has a big, big, void.

How Galena stepped on the gas until it hurt is a long story. The year Grant finished the job under the old apple tree the possession in Galena of a gas-illuminated house was greater evidence of a regular bank balance than the ownership of a gas propelled limousine is today. Gas retailed then at $5 a thousand cubic feet.

As gas manufacture became more scientific and economical, the gas company voluntarily reduced the rate until in 1912 Galena business houses and users of gas ranges paid only $1.50 a thousand, while light consumers got off with a charge of $1.65. In 1914 an explosion necessitated rebuilding much of the plant at great expense. Then came the world war—prices for coal, coke and oil soared and shipments became increasingly difficult to obtain. The Illinois Public Utilities Commission reduced the gas rate to $1.40 net for the first thousand cubic feet, the rate ranging downward to $1.20 a thousand to large consumers. The prices for essential gas-making material increased to the point where the operators had to seek relief. The Utilities Commission then raised the rate to $1.65.

But this new rate failed to make gas selling a paying proposition, and the plant went into the hands of a receiver. Experts called in by the receivers reported a big deficit. Then Galena's citizens saw the light they felt they soon weren't going to see and petitioned the Utilities Commission to do anything even to raising the rates—if they only could be assured of gas. But the Commission denied their plea and the plant, the second oldest in the state, was forced to shut down.

Some men are always worrying over the brevity of women's dresses. If they would make a practice of looking at faces they would have less to complain of elsewhere. We only see where we look.

Politics still make strange bedfellows. Picture, if you can, the Indianapolis News and Tom Taggart in fond embrace.

+ Digest of New Laws Passed +
+ By Special State Legislature +

12. General Election Law.—County commissioners are authorized to change the precincts in their county not later than Aug. 8, 1920, to take care of the increased number of voters. The number of voters in ballot precincts is fixed at 500, in voting machine precincts at 1000, and where both methods are used in the same precinct at 1500. Authority is given to use both voting machine and ballots in the same precinct. If women are not fully enfranchised by the November election and if both ballots and machines are used, the women will vote by ballot and the men on machines. If the number of voters in any precinct is large, two assistant poll clerks may be appointed. Where only ballots are used the clerks and assistant clerks perform the same duties, where ballots and machines are used the regular clerks attend to the machines and the assistants to the ballots. As many as 6 persons may be in the polling place at one time where assistant clerks are appointed. The compensation of election officials is as follows: Judge, clerks and assistant clerks, $9; sheriffs, $6; inspectors, $12. Absent voters may mark their ballots with pen and ink or a lead pencil of any color.

ALBANIA WANTS TO GET OLIVES FROM AMERICA

Country Never Dreamed of Eating Green Olives Until Red Cross Workers Imported Few Cases

GREEN FRUIT IS PREFERRED

Tirana Albania, (By Mail)—Albania, where every hillside is thick with olives, wants to import its olives from America. The demand for the American product has grown up since the Americans reached the country and introduced, for the first time, the bottled green olive as a table delicacy.

The Albanians never dreamed of preserving and eating green olives until Red Cross workers imported a few cases of the fruit, as prepared in America, for their personal consumption and invited their native friends to taste the unfamiliar dainties. Up to that time the people of the country picked their olives only when they were ripe and black and preserved them in strong brine, which robbed them of all their piquant flavor. The fruit was sold by weight from open vats, which stand beside the doorways of the small shopkeepers, collecting all the dust raised by passing traffic in the grimy streets.

Those Albanians who have been favored with a taste of the plump green olives imported from the United States have unanimously declared that the brine-soaked product of their own country cannot compare with the American fruit and that the Albanian market is wide open for green olives preserved by modern methods.

AFTER SCHOOL

By Strickland Gillilan

When home from school long day he drifts

And to my gaze his fresh face lifts,
I read the tale of all the joys
And sorrows that are every boy's—
I knew them once. I feel them yet,
Through later living's deeper fret.
But still I hold him close, and say,
"Son, tell me all about your day."

He tells me—whimpering o'er each grief;
And laughing next in swift relief:
The big, bad boy who hid his hat;
The girl who slipped from where she sat,
To meet with Teacher's well-earned frown;

And how the littlest boy fell down!
I list—not that I do not know,
But only that I love him so.

When, at life's troublous school day's close,
Each world-worn pupil homeward goes,
Straight to the Father's eyes we'll raise
Our own, prepared for blame or praise.
He'll slip an arm around, and say:
"Child, tell be all about your day."
Not that Our Father does not know,
But only that He loves us so.

The above poem was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Jess Pugh by Mr. Gillilan, who is a close friend of Mr. Pugh, when their son Richard died recently at Winona Lake.

DALLAS CHEAPEST LIVING CITY IN U. S.

Today It Is Fighting Most Successful Battle Against Upward Trend of Prices, Statistics Reveal

(By United Press.)

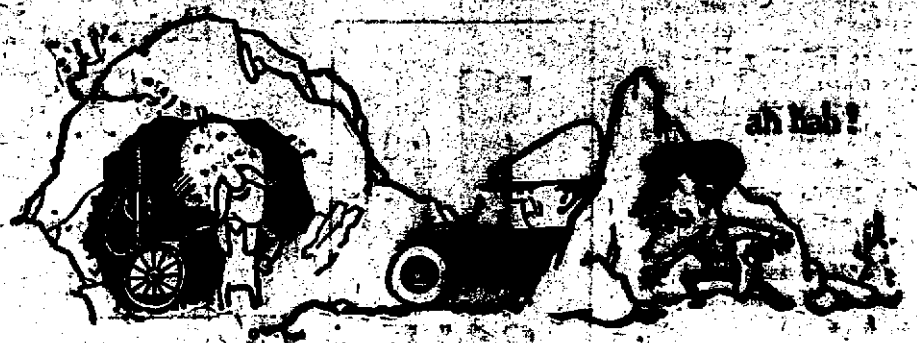

New York, Aug. 18.—Go Dallasward, young man—if you are seeking surcease from the High Cost of Living. For Dallas, Texas, today is fighting the most successful battle against upward trend of prices. It is the cheapest living city in the United States, out of twenty-six in which the United Press obtained figures on common commodities of living.

And strange to say, the investigation showed New York is not the highest priced town in the country as usually painted by visitors and natives themselves. It does run a close second to the "honor," however but New Haven wins first place.

On August 1 last the United Press asked grocers, housewives, ice dealer, coal dealers, dairymen, etc., in twenty-six cities of the United States and Canada for retail price quotations for that day on fourteen commodities that go largely to make up a day's living. The articles quoted were as follows: sugar, flour, butter, eggs, milk, potatoes, roast beef, ham, veal, sirloin, pork chops, lamb, ice and coal.

To arrive at a basis for comparison, so that it could be determined which is the costliest city to live in, the prices per pound, dozen, or ton, as the case may be, were tallied for each city and that total used as the key to the city's costliness or cheapness.

The accompanying table gives the details of the research and shows the actual prices obtained by the United Press for the articles mentioned. The total cost for the fourteen commodities for Dallas was $15.97, while for New Haven, Conn., it was $34.08, or more than twice the cost for the Texas city. The average of all the cities, or for the United States, was $21.02.

Chicago, second city of the country in population stands fourth from last place with a total of $18.82. Philadelphia, third city, has a total of $19.66, while Boston, another eastern metropolis, has $28.39 and ranks next after New York in expensiveness. Los Angeles and Washington, both of which made large gains in the 1920 census, take fourth and fifth places, and the commodities would cost there $27.66 and $25.32 respectively.

Near the bottom of the list, there are, besides Chicago, such cities as Buffalo, Pittsburg, and Columbus, where reports as gathered by the United Press show the articles quoted cost $19.44, $19.13 and $18.68.

The average for the United States as was expected, stands near the middle of the list, but there are fifteen cities where cost are above the average, while only eleven boast lower price scales.

Milwaukee, Portland, Ore., Harrisburg Pa., Montreal and Oklahoma City occupy the second five positions after Washington. Following immediately after them are to be found Indianapolis, St. Paul, Lincoln Neb., New Orleans and San Antonio, Texas. The prices for San Antonio, which rank above Dallas in point of population, total $21.39, or $5.42 higher than the quotations for Dallas.

Other cities below the average for the country are St. Louis, Cleveland, Denver, Philadelphia and Springfield, Ills. Among these cities the prices vary between $19.48 and $20.88, the totals for Springfield and St. Louis, which, it happens, lie only two and a half hours apart.

Efforts were made to make comparisons as to the cost of rent, clothing, shoes, etc. Reports were gathered, but on compiling the quotations it was found they varied so materially that no fair comparison was possible. In some cities, for instance certain grades of houses or apartments would be classed as "moderate," while in another city similar buildings were listed differently.

Dowagiac Steerable One Horse Drill

They are SELF-GUIDING and follow the horse perfectly on short turns or between crooked rows without guiding from the rear.

They are STEERABLE without lifting by the operator. Pressure on one of the handles of the operator shifting his position, when riding on the box immediately changes the course to that side.

They are ADJUSTABLE both as to width of rows and as to depth of sowing.

They are UNIFORM depositors of seed by means of independent and adjustable spring pressure on each disc.

They are CONVENIENT in transportation to and from the fields. One lever raises the discs and the drill is carried on the castor wheel in front and the drive wheels in the rear.

Give us your order for a DOWAGIAC before we are sold out. The last few years we have had to disappoint many as the demand was heavy and farmers could not wait on re-orders. Let us deliver you one early. Call us. Carthage Telephone No. 9.

BOLT RESTORES HEALTH

Lightning Hits Woman and She Recovers From Invalid Condition

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 19.—After being an invalid for several months, Mrs. J. M. Miller, wife of a prominent merchant at Seminary, Miss., has been almost completely restored to health as a result of being struck by a bolt of lightning.

While alone in her room at a summer resort, a violent electrical storm came up, and a bolt of lightning struck Mrs. Miller's feet, tearing off her shoes, and rendering her unconscious. Although the white canvass shoes were torn to pieces, not even a burn could be found on Mrs. Miller's stockings.

Amusements

"The Flame of Hellgate"—Mystic

Just as the police of New York City long had maintained a "dead line" south of which no "crook" is allowed to go, so in "The Flame of Hellgate," in which Beatriz Michellena will be seen at the Mystic Friday, a bold outlaw queen establishes a "Dead Line" above which none of the cattle king's men can come.

Her father has been murdered by the cattle king's forces, and she has decided that if there is to be any such royalty in America as cattle "kings," she will "queen it" a little herself. So she and her men establish a large sign on the side of the mountain saying: "No Trespassing—The Dead Line." Beside this sign stands a guard day and night. So carefully does he watch, and so skillfully do the followers of the outlaw queen fight that the cattle king is worried.

The sheriff who has obtained his office through the influence of the cattle king and who, in turn, is supposed to gratify every whim of the "king," decides that he will go up single-handed and capture the outlaw chief, and his band. He gets as far as "The Dead Line." There an unusual fate befalls him and he is sent back to the village on his horse tied hand and foot.

Garden Beauty Most Anyone Can Afford

Look about as you walk or drive through a residential district and note the attractive places. It isn't the "finest" homes by any means that catch your eye. More often it is the well kept yard, the shrubbery, the trimmed trees and flower beds.

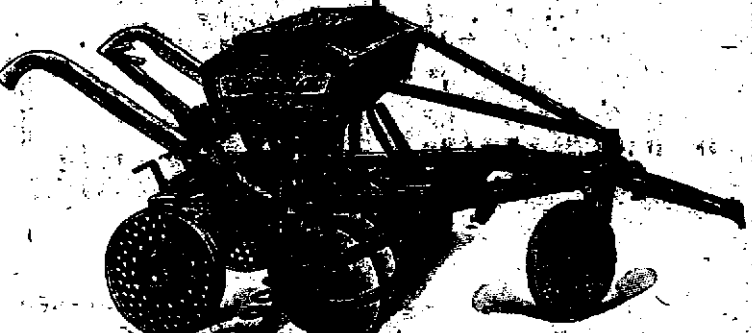

And then when you see in combination with these, a neat fence, an arbor, a pergola and a bird house—you exclaim: "What a picture."

The wonder of it is that more folks don't have these little garden features. There's nothing cooler and better looking. And the cost! You'll be surprised how reasonable it is.

We'll take just as much interest in supplying you with the lumber for these little improvements as if you were buying materials for a house. We can make some interesting suggestions.

WOMAN'S LEADER IS CONGRATULATED

GLAD FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Republicans And Democrats Are Jubilant Over Victory in Woman's Favor, Messages Declare

Washington, Aug. 19.—Congratulations on the final suffrage victory are pouring in to Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's Party. Some of the statements follow:

"I wish to congratulate you and the women you have so valiantly led on the triumph of the suffrage cause today. I want also to congratulate the country on the accession to the electorate of millions of women who have much to give to the political development of their country."

Representative Champ Clark, former speaker of the House of Representatives:

"Today marks the triumphant end of the struggle for a cause which has always had right and justice on its side. You are to be congratulated on the victory of your courageous struggle."

"The women who have tirelessly kept up the fight in face of repeated discouragements, of rebuffs, and even of persecution, deserve the highest credit. The whole country rejoices in their victory and in the triumph of a great cause."

Representative Mondell, Majority Floor Leader.

"Let me congratulate you as a leader of the National Woman's Party, and through you the women of the country, on this triumphant ending of your long and difficult struggle for political equality. Republicans will always be proud of the fact that their party has stood on the side of justice and fair dealing in urging the enfranchisement of American women. We welcome our newly enfranchised citizens to their rightful share in the government of the country."

Attorney General Palmer:

"Political democracy has become today a real fact in the United States through the victory of woman suffrage, and the women of the country are to be congratulated on the success of their long and strenuous fight. The country is proud of its newly enfranchised citizens and ashamed only of the length and difficulty of the struggle which they have had to wage to secure what was obviously their right."

GOLF TOURNAMENT ON TWO COURSES

Amateur Golfers of U. S. Will Try Out Brand New Plan at National Tournament Sept. 16

ROUND CONSISTS OF 36 HOLES

Match Play to be Started Day Following Qualifying Round and to be Played on Engineers' Course

(By United Press.)

New York, August 19.—Amateur golfers of the United States will try out a brand new plan when they unlimber their mashies, etc., for this year's national tournament, September 16.

The tournament committee of the United States Golf Association last winter picked the Engineers' club course on Long Island for the championship, but so many entrants were anticipated that it soon was evident that there would be an awful jam in clearing away the qualifying round. The North Shore club solved the problem when it offered its course to serve also in the qualifying round. So the hundreds of golfers will take the jumps on two courses this year to qualify.

The qualifying round will consist of thirty-six holes, medal play. The entering list will be split into two sections, half of which will play the North Shore course and the other half the Engineer's course. Completing this eighteen holes the players will exchange courses at noon, playing the next eighteen holes on a brand new link.

Only thirty-two players will survive the qualifying round. In the recent past it has been customary for every player who tied at the thirty-second top score to start in the match play. This will not obtain this year. The tied players will play off the deadlock and pairings will be made for only thirty-two players.

Match play will be started the day following the qualifying round and all matches will be played on the Engineers' club course. Play will start Monday with the qualifying round. Finals will be played, thirty-six holes, the following Saturday.

Broad preparations are being made by the Engineers' Club to handle the big event. The course is a new one, but has been carefully tended until it now is one of the best in the country. Expert course builders have been busy on it all summer, installing new traps and building greens. A seed company has detailed an expert to watch the growth of turf. The course now is in a wonderful condition.
